E COAST

OROSEI AREA

CALA LUNA

The beach of Cala Luna is located north of Arbatax and not far from Cala Gonone, in the Gulf of Orosei. This large white-sand beach is at only 3 km far from the famous Bue Marino Caves which open up on the sea and can be easily reached by boat coasting along the cliffs up to their stately entrance. On the beach, there is a small woods with pink oleanders, which partially hides the stream that flows in the green and deep valley. The seabed is low, making the beach ideal for children and families, and many people also choose it as a destination for snorkeling, diving, and even climbing and trekking.

CALA MARIOLU

This beach is near to Cala Biriola and Cala Goloritzè. It is a stunning pebbled beach overhung by a chalky hillside covered by Mediterranean vegetation. The bottom is rocky and suitable for scuba diving. Some rocks emerge from the sea and form tiny islands. The sun shines all morning long while the rest of the day the beach is in the shade. As the other beaches around the area, it's perfect for climbing and trekking on the land and snorkeling and diving inside the water.

CALA GOLORITZÈ

The beach of Cala Goloritzè is located along sardinian northeastern coast, in the north of Arbatax. In 1995 it was elected "Italian National Monument" and it is the most photographed beach in the Ogliastra area. The bottom is clear and 30 m high. The white pebbled beach is unique of its kind and its waters are colder than normal. On the land around the beach activities such as trekking, climbing, free-climbing and bird-watching are available, while divers and snorkellers that choose it as their destination are many.

ARBATAX AREA

PORTO FRAILIS

The beach of Porto Frailis is a small, quiet bay that has fine, white sand flanked by cliffs. Its waters are crystal clear and of a changing blue due to the shades created by the sun reflecting off the sea. It has a lot of facilities: it has a large car park, hotel, campsite, café, refreshment point and nearby there are pubs and clubs in general which offer a particularly vibrant nightlife. Porto Frailis has shallow waters which allow children to play safely. It is possible to rent beach umbrellas, sun loungers and pedal boats. Being windy, it is an ideal spot for surfers and is loved by scuba fishing enthusiasts and by those simply wishing to dive in its waters, perhaps with a mask and flippers to do some snorkelling in the underwater world rich in pleasant surprises.
